C. of C. Favors Proposition One For Nov. Election

Ocean Beach Chamber of Commerce went on record Monday night, at the regular October meeting, in favor of Proposition number one, to be voted on at the general election, Nov. 7, same being the proposed $30 million Veterans bond issue.

Proposed as the Veterans Bond Act of 1943, of California, this measure would provide a fund for loans for the purchase of farms and homes for veterans of World War II substantially the same as was done after World War I. Commander Earl Shaw of Clyde Wright post of the American Legion, presented the resolution, the same receiving unanimous endorsement.

In the absence of Mrs. Charlotte Young, the secretary, Mrs. Matilda Peebles, officiated in that capacity.

She read communications from Joe Brennan, port director, in which the latter had replied to a previous C. of C. letter suggesting need of repair of the piling under the fishing pier at the foot of Del Monte ave. Brennan stated that what seems to be "deterioration on the piling is nothing more than barnacles." He explained that the barnacles are in effect a preservative for the wood and wrote that he "was sorry that the barnacles did not extend all the way up on the piling, for same is the best preservative that could be had for the structures."

A second communication was from the city planning commission in regard to a bus terminal structure that had been suggested some time ago by the San Diego Electric Street Railway company for the corner of Sunset Cliffs and Orchard ave. The commission wrote that though the company had some time ago requested an application form for rezoning, same had not been filed. The letter also gave assurance that if and when such rezoning petition was filed the property owners affected and others interested would be given ample notice of the public hearing required. There being no apparent action necessary regard to the contents of either letter, none was taken.

Committee Named
This being the meeting for selection of a nominating committee for the officers to be elected for the ensuing year, action was taken on this matter and President Lloyd Greeson named Harry Masters, John Loftus and Earl Shaw on the committee.

Pt. Loma high school this (Friday) afternoon opens the football season of games on the home field, with Grossmont as the opposing eleven. The game is set to start at 2:30 on Ross field.

Three other games are slated this fall for the home gridiron, being Coronado on Oct. 27, St. Augustine for Nov. 10 and Sweetwater for Nov. 17.

The "Pointers" started their regular games for this season with a 13-7 victory over Hoover high last Friday on the latter's field. Coach Bill Maxwell used only four substitutes all afternoon. The defeat was the first for Hoover since 1942 and the first time the "Pointers" have taken the measure of the Cardinals.

Pt. Loma's passing attack of Halfback Tommy Jones to Jim Weisler accounted for both touchdowns, one in the third and the other in the fourth period. Wilson converted for the extra point after the first touchdown. The Hooverites scored their lone tally in the final period.

On the same day Sweetwater high downed Grossmont 19 to 6 and San Diego high defeated La Jolla also by a 19-6 score.

The children in the second grade, room 4, are learning about the animals that work for victory. At present they are discovering how the farm animals contribute to the war effort by furnishing food, meat, eggs, wool, milk, butter, etc. The children have a miniature farm, showing phases of farm activity.

Later they will learn about the beasts of burden that work or carry food supplies for the Allies. Some of these animals are, elephant, camels, water buffalo, dogs, llamas. Much interest is being shown in the work and training of war dogs. Even spiders are weaving webs to be used for war instruments.

New pupils entering the second grade during the week were Ernest Breen, from Tucson, Ariz., and Billy Keeney from Lawton, Oklahoma.

California "Indians" of room 5, the fourth grade, are very busy these days. There's an Indian village that's planned with small clay Indians, and another group is learning how to make pottery cooking "ollas." They may make some baskets later. ## CITY COUNCIL PASSES ORDINANCE PROVIDING ARCHITECTURAL CONTROL

San Diego city council Tuesday passed the regulatory ordinance that provides most all of the Ocean Beach area with architectural control over the matter of new buildings and the moving in of buildings, reports John A. Titlow, local civic leader, who engineered the campaign for this community improvement. The council passed the ordinance by unanimous vote, following which same went into effect immediately. Evidently Ocean Beach folks also were unanimous in their approval of the plan since none appeared at the hearings to protest the improvement.

There is no limit as to the size or cost of homes, but all plans must be passed upon by the city planning department, to make certain that they will result in construction that will enhance rather than harm the appearance of the community.

CO-FOUNDER OF ELIM ASSEMBLY OF GOD CHURCH PASSES AWAY THURSDAY

Mrs. Mary B. Lynas, co-founder with her husband, of the Elim Assembly of God church in Ocean Beach, was called by death Thursday. She died rather suddenly of a heart attack at the age of nearly 76.

She was born in Londonderry, Ireland, Nov. 11, 1868 and came to San Diego about 1912. Her work helping to establish the local church began with a weekly prayer service in the Woman's clubhouse in 1928. March 1929 marked the official opening of the church and Sunday school on Niagara st. with 70 students present. Often during those early days of the local church, "Mother" Lynas, as she was called, taught the entire group. She and her husband held street meetings on Newport ave. Later the church moved to Bacon st. and in a short time to the present location at Cape May and Ebers. With their own finances they built a large room on to the front of the cottage, and this was dedicated as a church in 1931. After this room was outgrown, they built and dedicated the present edifice March 26, 1935.

Funeral services were held at the church Monday afternoon, with Rev. E. Wm. Mincey, the pastor, in charge, assisted by Rev. Ben Hardin and Dr. Chas. Tully, both of San Diego. She was buried in Ft. Rosecrans cemetery by the side of her husband, a navy officer who died in April 1942. She leaves behind: Samuel McClure, of Torrance, Calif. and a sister living in Pennsylvania.

The following organizations and churches are generously contributing home-made cakes and cookies to the Ocean Beach USO: Royal Neighbors, Point Loma Eastern Star Chapter club; V.F.W. Auxiliary; Baptist church, Methodist church, Chamber of commerce and Kiwanians.

A lot of the boys like to come out to a small town, where they can gather around the canteen, eat and visit and choose their own form of entertainment and this is the grand effort on the part of the above organizations and churches in making it possible to entertain more service boys and girls who will go out to their various stations with a pleasant memory of the hospitality the Ocean Beach USO has been able to afford them.

Plans are going forward for a formal halloween dance, to be held Saturday, October 28. Arlene Eulberg is chairman.

Mrs. Georgia Brock, Publicity Chairman

Committee Plans To Order Honor Roll Plaque Soon

Lloyd D. Greeson of the special Chamber of Commerce-Kiwanis committee sponsoring the project of an honor roll plaque monument for Ocean Beach announced this week that the committee plans to put in the order for the plaque next week. The monument is for the purpose of honoring the Ocean Beach men and women who are serving their country in this war.

"I am positive," he said, "that by next week we will have more than enough in the fund to pay for the plaque."

More money is needed, however, to pay for inscribing the names on the honor roll. Cost of the inscription is figured at 50 cents per name, which means that with 1000 names, approximately, estimated for the plaque about $500 more will be needed, he reported.

Thus far the Chamber of Commerce, of the local organization, has headed the list of donors with a contribution of $100, and the Royal Neighbors, at their last meeting, appropriated $57 for the same purpose. Other organizations are expecting to take action at meetings to be held soon, reports Mr. Greeson.

Kiwanis Hears Highlights of L. A. Convention

Delegate reports on the recent 24th annual convention of the California-Nevada district of Kiwanis clubs featured the Tuesday evening meeting of the Ocean Beach Kiwanis club, held at the Woman's clubhouse.

Jerry Sullivan outlined the three functions of a district convention, stating them to be:

1. To elect a district governor and the lieutenant governors. 2. To pass resolutions. 3. To pass any needed amendments.

Rev. J. F. Roberts reviewed the talks of several of the convention speakers, stating that everyone wound up his talk by declaring that Kiwanis should place greater emphasis on spiritual discipline in order to help solve the social and moral problems that now face this country in increasing degree.

Dr. W. B. Oster said that every Kiwanian should grab every opportunity to go to these conventions. "One thing I gained from this convention," he said, "was the emphasis that is placed on attendance at the club meetings." One speech that impressed him, he said, was by a Kiwanian from Altadena, who told of the splendid work the Kiwanis club there is doing in sponsoring help and guidance to delinquent youth.

Dr. Myron Insko, who attended the convention as a delegate-at-large, gave a brief summary of humorous sidelights of the meeting.

President Glen Jones, who also was a delegate at the convention, introduced each delegate and added his impressions of the Los Angeles meeting to those of the others. He said the theme of the convention was "Our Duty Today and Tomorrow." He reported 777 delegates registered.

At the business session, Commander Earl Shaw of the local Legion post, spoke on the general support that is being given to Proposition No. 1, to be voted on at the Nov. 7 election, a proposal to provide state money for loans to returning service-men needing the help. Milton Lancaster, chairman of the Kiwanis education committee, spoke on the divisional inter-club meeting that was scheduled for Thursday night this week in the San Diego Club building, urging more of the Ocean Beach members to attend.

Nearly half a million absentee ballots in California, mostly by the service-men and women, is the estimate Frank M. Jordan, secretary of state, made while in The News office Thursday last week. He also predicted that in view of the late date for the counting of the absentee ballots, the California state election, if close, may not be decided until nearly a month after the Nov. 7 general election. He placed an estimate of 300,000 on the California absentee ballots and another 200,000 will be federal absentee ballots, all of which will, of course, have to be canvassed in this state, he said.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Germans Counterattack to Slow Allies' Smash Into Rhineland; OWI Warns of Hard Pacific War

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

As Holland became a flaming battleground, civilians are shown fleeing from battle zone near Kerkrade to safety.

EUROPE:

'Greatest Battles'

In what the Germans said was "... the greatest battle of material in the world's history..." with 2,500,000 men facing each other on a 460-mile front, Allied forces moved slowly on the Siegfried line against stubborn enemy resistance.

All along the curving battle-line the Germans launched extensive counterattacks, throwing in large numbers of tanks to stem the Allied drive on their all important industrial belt along the Rhine.

Bearing the brunt of the enemy's aggressiveness were Lieut. Gen. Miles Dempsey's British Second Army driving northward in Holland and Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton's American Third Army lunging for the coal-laden Saar basin beyond Metz and Nancy.

Gen. Dempsey

In Holland, strong German counterattacks were aimed at thwarting General Dempsey's Tommies from pressing past the northern anchor of the Siegfried line at Kleve, and of throwing an arm to the great water basin of the Zuider Zee to the northwest to cut off an estimated 200,000 Nazis still engaged in the lower extremity of the country.

In addition to employing masses of tanks against General Patton's men before the Saar, the enemy also made good use of the hilly and wooded terrain in the sector to reduce the valiant doughboys' advances to yards.

As the fighting raged to the north and south, Lieut. Gen. Courtney Hodges' First American Army launched a heavy attack between those two sectors east of Aachen, fighting its way through thick woods to draw up within 27 miles of the great industrial center of Cologne.

Having smashed through the upper reaches of the Germans' vaunted "Gothic line" in northern Italy, Allied troops fought toward the leveling plains of the great Po valley, cradling the majority of the country's population, and its most highly developed resources.

Despite desperate German attempts to stem their drive, the Allies pushed on, with Lieut. Gen. Mark Clark's American Fifth Army threatening to close an escape route for stubborn enemy troops ringed between it and the British Eighth army to the east.

As the remnants of Germany's Baltic armies pulled out of Latvia, the spotlight on the eastern front swung back to East Prussia in the north and Hungary on the south, where the Reds pushed offensives to crack these anchors of the Nazis' eastern front.

While the Germans could fall back on swampy, wooded lake country in East Prussia to slow the Russian drive, they had no such advantage in Hungary, where the Reds pressed for the broad open plains to the southeast of Budapest.

Having landed on the western coast of Yugoslavia, strong Allied forces worked inland to cut off the retreat of an estimated 200,000 Germans moving northward from the lower Balkans.

Index of economic conditions, loans on life insurance policies outstanding in midyear approximated $2,100,000,000, lowest in 15 years. During the critical depression period of 1932, loans reached $3,800,000,000, almost double present figures.

Offsetting a decline in civilian mortality, increased deaths among policy holders in military service resulted in an 18 per cent rise in insurance benefits paid out so far this year.

PACIFIC:

Airpower

Long is the reach of America's famed B-29 Superfortresses, which have flown to the wars to hamstring the flow of enemy supplies to his widespread Asiatic front by striking at principal Japanese industrial centers.

With recent improvements permitting the carrying of heavier bomb loads, no less than 100 of the B-29s flew the equivalent of from Atlanta, Ga., to the Arctic circle in attacking manufacturing plants in Anshan, Manchuria, second largest steel-making center in the Japanese empire.

While the B-29s were on the wing, other U. S. army and navy planes struck at Jap. positions along the whole Pacific front in attempts to soften the enemy against further advances.

Jap Resistance

With Japan possessing many strategic materials in the home islands and Korea enabling her to increase war production; with the country capable of putting 8,000,000 men in the field, and with American supply lines stretched, U. S. victory in the Pacific may require from 1 1/2 to 2 years after Germany's defeat, the Office of War Information said.

To America's advantage in pressing for victory, OWI said, was its own tremendous war output, capable of turning out 8,000 planes a month to Japan's 1,500; the threat to cut the enemy's supply lines from the Indies area and blockade the homeland, and the overrunning of his outer defenses which has brought U. S. forces close to the inner ramparts.

Far from slaking the Japs' fervor, Germany's fall might strengthen the enemy's determination to resist, OWI said.

POSTWAR GERMANY:

Allied Plans

With Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau's proposal for stripping Germany of all of its manufactures and reducing the country to an agricultural basis rejected, Allied post-war plans looked forward to the maintenance of the Reich's industrial machine under close supervision.

Challenging Morgenthau's position, Secretary of State Hull and Secretary of War Stimson declared that not only did Germany turn out certain essential industrial products for the rest of Europe, but that its business also put it in the market to purchase other countries' goods.

In order to check German industry's war-making capacity, Allied plans call for control over all strategic materials, with possible elimination of factories adapted to arms production.

BUTTER:

Tight Supply

With only 12,000,000 pounds of butter in storage earmarked for civilians and consumption on a day-to-day basis, the point value on the product was raised from 16 to 20 points per pound, OPA officials said.

Despite the government's plans for withdrawing from the butter market in October until production climbs in the spring, no immediate relief in the tight supply was seen. Said OPA Administrator Chester Bowles: "... We civilians are going to have to get along with less butter than formerly, at least during the next 90 days or so..."

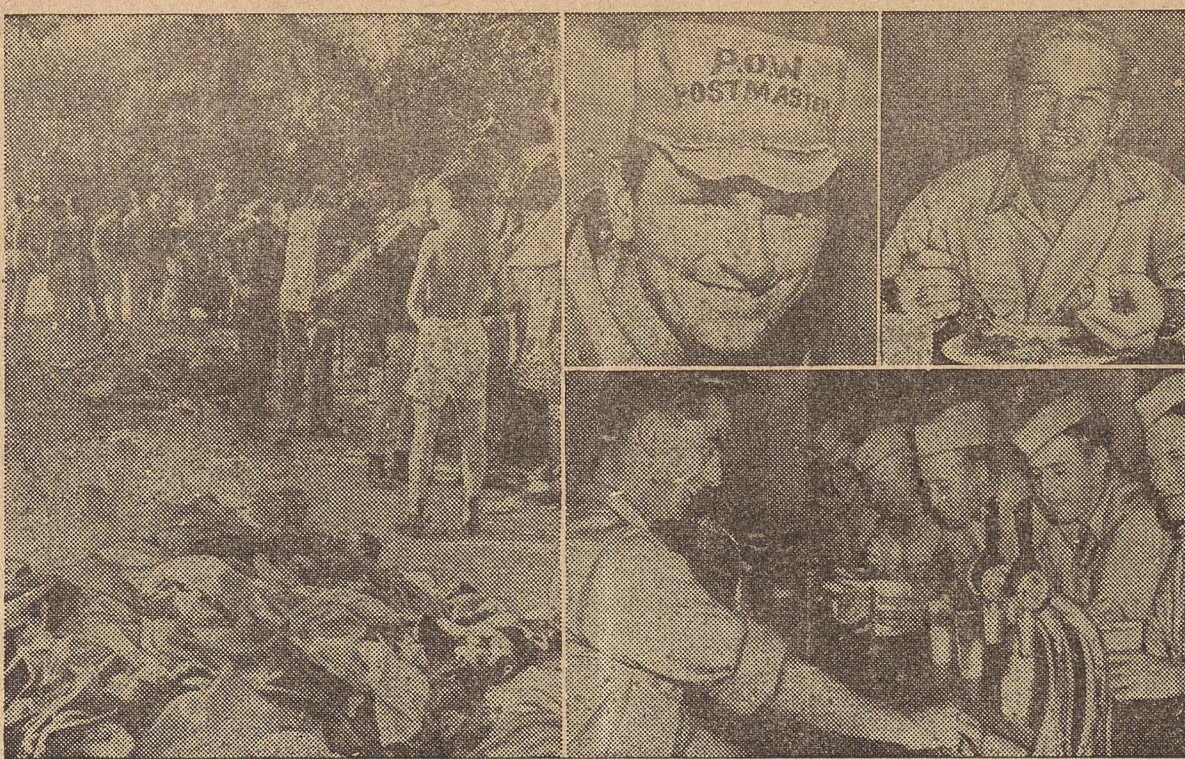

Besides reserving 128,000,000 pounds of the present stocks of 138,000,000 pounds, the government has been purchasing great quantities of butter fat from producers for powdered milk and other uses.

Cars

Thinking in terms of a utilization in space and weight, Ford Motor company officials are working on plans for large-scale production of the lowest priced automobile since Ford's model A.

Declaring that the vehicle would not be of a miniature doodlebug type, Henry Ford II declared: "Such a car would be in addition to our regular line. What it will sell for, what it will look like, are matters of conjecture at the moment. The logical result... could be a better automobile for the American family."

American army discovered vast stores of Swiss cheese (left) the Germans were forced to leave behind. Now the GIs will have something special to put on their K-ration crackers, and the Nazis will be without their prize cheese.

Newest Watch on the Rhine

The 1944 version of the "Watch on the Rhine," shows a British soldier in con man post as he guards the bridge across wall, the Rhine's main outlet to the sea. This is the first time during the present war that Allied troops have taken command of any large section of the Rhine, a fallen stronghold of the Germans.

Yank Bombers Hit Philippines

As the result of this raid, more than 200 enemy planes were destroyed, and the softening up of the Philippines continued in anticipation of MacArthur landings in near future.

Mixing Periods

With discretion, periods may be mixed, but to avoid incongruity there are things to remember about the general tone of a house or a room. Color should be the keynote to its mode. Louis XV and other French period furniture is usually ornate and frail in appearance, calling for pastel walls and dainty silken drapery. Flowered chintzes, ruffled curtains and prim walls are proper for Colonial. Modern, Spanish, and Chinese themes express themselves in vivid splashes of color.

VETERANS BOND ISSUE

It is entirely fitting that Proposition 1 on the November ballot, the $30,000,000 Veterans Farm and Home bond issue, should lead all the rest, for it deserves the wholehearted support of every citizen who wants to aid in extending a helping hand to our service men during the time they are re-establishing themselves in civilian life.

This is not untried legislation. Identically the same program was adopted after World War 1, to extend farm and home loans to the Veterans of 1917 and 1918—and both the men and the state benefited tremendously from the plan. Actually, under the plan the state does not "give" the veterans anything; it merely lends its credit to enable the service man to buy a home or farm and get his roots down in the community. The money is repaid to the state, with interest, in small monthly installments, and thus the Veterans Farm and Home purchase program has been sound and solvent from its inception.

There are many veterans' homes in this community—and in other communities throughout the state—which are fine monuments to such a progressive, forward-looking program. We sincerely believe the worthy project should be continued for the veterans of World War II.

HANG ONTO YOUR WAR BONDS

"Please help us to make it plain that the government does not want war bonds cashed, that those who cash theirs, except in extreme emergency, are unnecessarily hampering the war effort and that for every bond cashed they or some fellow citizen must be sold another."

The foregoing is an urgent appeal that came to The News Monday from the treasury department in Washington, signed by T. R. Gamble, national director of the War Finance division.

Evidently a lot of the war bondholders have formed the wrong idea of why the government made arrangements giving the banks authority to cash the bonds beginning Monday this week. Uncle Sam simply wanted to be of more service to the bondholders in providing the greater convenience for bond cashing. The last thing the treasury department had in mind, however, was that bondholders who do not need the money should rush in and cash their bonds. Possibly the government made a mistake to make the bonds easier to cash. At any rate the announcement has been made.

Now it is up to the war bondholders to show their patriotism further by refusing to cash bonds only in event of extreme emergency need for the money. They must get it through their heads that the more bonds cashed the more bonds must again be sold in order to finance the war. In fact, the sixth war loan drive is coming up in November and Uncle Sam, we are sure, does not wish to up the 14 billion asked for because of unnecessary cashing of bonds sold in previous drives.

WHAT'S BUZZIN'!

By CHERIE.

Our Good Friends . . .

Mrs. Mamie Fowler (Alterations) is nursing a broken ankle received in a fall Saturday, Sept. 30 . . . Mrs. Clyde Tallman (Clyde is now with the Lownes Dept. Store) has returned from a trip to Cedar Rapids and Chicago, where she visited with her mother, daughter, and little grandson . . . You should see the G.I.'s go for those luscious hot cakes with syrup on Wednesday evening at the U.S.O. Never let it be said that our "Younger Generation" can't do the Virginia Reel just as gracefully as their grandparents. Esther Milton led the dance, and she really knows her steps . . . What's this? The Miltons, taxing to the Ice Carnival Friday evening past! . . . Evelyn Ryan (formerly of Dorothy's Beauty Parlor) is blessed evening in Wisconsin . . . Never seemed to notice it before, but now that the street lights have shed their dark coats, my bedroom is lit up at night like a new market! . . . Lee Wilson (Eric-Lee cafe) is an ichtheologist! That, in case you don't know is one who studies fish and she really has a collection of same! . . . Add Royal Cleaners to the list of broken windows . . . The unique new Hosiery Bar at Marc's is strictly a bit of Marc's own car-pentering, and he's all puffed up over his accomplishment! Incidentally, part of that "puff" may be due to his celebrating his 48th birthday next Monday 16th! . . . Bill Matlock says he'd like to raise "bunnies" on a large scale! That's the only way you can raise 'em, isn't it? . . . The Lloyd Greasons have started landscaping their newly purchased home on Newport ave. . . . Card from Dick Bradt (former manager of Elm's) says he is taking care of the shoe situation for Salem, Ore. . . . Pvt. Ross Simpson paid us a visit Saturday. He is stationed at Camp Roberts . . . Gregory Fold's address at the last meeting of the Royal Neighbors on the Memorial Fund met with fine response.

Well Represented! . . . Mrs. Ellen Gustafson, who resides at the Hotel Ocean Village with her daughter, Mrs. Eleanor DeVore, is very proud of her representation in the armed forces, and well she may be! Her son-in-law, Lloyd L. DeVore, is a pharmacist 1/c in the Navy at Saipan; a son, Staff Sgt. Manley B. Gustafson is in the Army somewhere in France; another son, Ensign Kenneth L. Gustafson is with the Merchant Marines somewhere in the Atlantic. Last, but far from least, is her daughter, Elaine C. Gustafson, who for the past month has been a clerk in the Disbursing office at Algiers, and who is now being transferred to Paris. Elaine was formerly employed by the Navy in Barstow and Corona, Calif. Mrs. Gustafson has been doing alteration work with Mrs. Mamie Fowler at 5029 Newport ave. for the past few months.

Screen Gossip . . . Sam Goldwyn bought "Simone" by Lion Feuchtwanger and will star Teresa Wright in it. Teresa Wright is the wife of Niven Busch, who wrote "Duel in the Sun" . . . Gene Fowler is busy in Denver writing a newspaper book. His last was "Good Night, Sweet Prince" . . . We understand Warner Bros. paid $250,000 for the play based on Rosemary Taylor's "Chicken Every Sunday" a very popular Guild selection of last year.

Book Review . . . By special request, I am reviewing a good all around "thriller" straight from the morgue! "Corpe de Ballet" by Lucy Cores is an ingenious and crisply written story of the death of a great dancer, in whom some may see a resemblance to Nijinsky. There's humor and plenty of action here, and you won't guess the end of this one!

And so, toodle-oo until next week, and my telephone still rings at the same numbers!

STRONG SUPPORT VOICED BY OIL CONCERN HEAD FOR PROPOSITION 7

Strong support for the passage of Proposition 7, which provides for the payment of the expenses of the members of the California legislature when the lawmakers are in session, was offered here today by J. A. Smith, president of the Independent Petroleum & Consumers association.

"It may come as a shock to many voters to learn that California's state senators and assemblymen receive but $100 a month," Smith said. "With tax deductions this amounts to less than $90 for the average legislator. Out of this, unlike all other elected officials, he must pay his own expenses while away from home attending regular and special sessions of the legislature."

"My neighbor on the next street had a telephone installed Why did he get one before me?"

That is a natural question.

There are a number of reasons, one or several of which may fit the case.

It's possible your neighbor on the next street ordered service sooner than you did . . . has been longer on the waiting list.

Or the neighbor who applied later but got service sooner may be one whose responsibilities for defense, public health, welfare and safety require it.

Or there may be more wire capacity available on his street.

Until the telephone factories are able to turn from war production, there will continue to be shortages of certain facilities here on the home front.

We are doing our level best to meet the essential requirements of our country and community, and to be fair to everyone.

Your co-operation and understanding are appreciated.

Honor Roll of Ocean Beach Men And Women Serving in This War

Below is a partial list of the names of the men and women from Ocean Beach community serving in World War II, starting the honor roll. These names either were sent in or taken from the "In the Service" column in The News. The list, of course, is far from complete and also is likely to contain errors. The News plans to publish the list from time to time as space permits and will be glad to correct errors and to publish additions to the list as they are brought in or mailed to The News office.

Civilian Defense - DISTRICT No. 7 Bayview 6101

Last week at the Central Committee meeting of the Women's division, held in town by Mrs. David A. Fraser, chairman, in addition to an interesting war training film on Russia, shown by Mr. Edwin A. Watkins, there were several speakers.

Dr. Oliver M. Butterfield of the San Diego Association for the Family Living spoke of the fine work that the women of San Diego are doing. Speaking of the association, Dr. Butterfield said the main work is to supplement educational resources in regard to family living information about family problems and relationships. A booklet has been published by this association, listing agencies who are attempting to assist families and individuals in a wide variety of ways. These booklets have been distributed to sector and block leaders and copies also may be obtained at the office of the association in the Spreckels building.

Mr. Kenneth Beam of the Coordinating Council, another speaker, told of a committee from the State Assembly, who met here in San Diego to determine what we might need from the State in taking care of youth problems. These officials predicted that following the war, we will have a higher rate of juvenile delinquency than we had during the war. Here, in San Diego, however our rate of juvenile delinquency is low considering the increase of population. Mr. Beam stated that there have been more than 700 boys and girls arrested in this city on various charges who do not live here at all, coming from other communities in California and other parts of the country. Several youth conferences are to be held throughout the county, three in San Diego. The conference covering the Beach areas will be held on Oct. 24, at 7:30 p.m. in the Pacific Beach Women's club house. Block leaders are asked to extend an invitation to anyone interested to attend these conferences and bring their problems and suggestions to the meeting.

Mrs. Nye, of the American Red Cross spoke with regard to the Christmas boxes for the patients in the hospitals in the San Diego area. The boxes may be obtained at the public school in Ocean Beach at two cents each, and when filled and wrapped, may be left at the school where the Red Cross has arranged to collect them. Mrs. Martha MacIntosh, principal, has assured us of her cooperation and is glad to be of assistance in getting the boxes on their way to the patients in the hospitals at Christmas time. The filling of these Christmas boxes is the program of the citizens of San Diego and everyone should help. The Red Cross is simply collecting and distributing them.

Bertha K. Leadbeater.

Gayle Elaine, first-born of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil D. Flowers, 2375 Seaside st., Ocean Beach, arrived Saturday, Oct. 7, at Mercy hospital. Mrs. Flowers, before her marriage was Kathleen Schneider, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley F. Schneider, Ocean Beach.

"Number One on My Postwar List for Better Living"

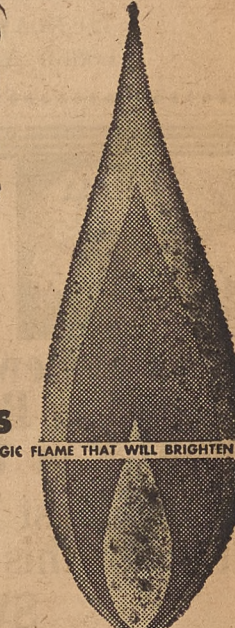

"I THINK you'll pardon me for taking time out from home-front war duty to do a little postwar planning of my own. Yes, and a great deal of it will be based on things I've learned about food preparation while attending Red Cross Nutrition classes. For instance, I now know how important it is to have properly balanced vitamin-plus meals, and how necessary it is to have cooking equipment that can be so adjusted that there is no waste of food values in their preparation. That's why a (C) (Certified Performance) gas range will be Number One on my postwar list for better living.

The beauty of a modern (C) gas range is more than "skin deep". Beneath its handsome lines and glistening exterior you'll find triple improved top and simmer burners, a double-quick smokeless broiler, and an insulated oven with perfect heat control... all so necessary to vitamin-plus cooking.

Better add a (C) to your list, too!

Ocean Beach Camp and Hospital

By ONA E. PITCOCK

We had 56½ dozen cookies last week and Miss Nye says we can never have too many as they are so enjoyed by our service-men. I do wish every woman in the Beach who bakes should bake an extra dozen or two for our hospital boys.

Also please bring in Christmas cards for our boys to send back to their buddies. Remember these cards must go with the overseas mail. The boys in the hospitals want to remember the buddies they left behind so please help in this work. If you will buy them and leave them at any of the stores in Ocean Beach and then telephone B-5639 we will pick them up. Put your name on the package also so we will know who sent them. Red Cross needs many more cards.

The Sacajawea Girl Scouts are making chains of cellophane to send overseas to decorate our boys Christmas trees. How many more Ocean Beach children would like to help? Old cellophane can be used. You know how to make the rings and Mrs. Gordon Lilley tells me her Girl Scouts fasten them together with Scotch tape. These chains can be shipped without breaking. Any decorations for trees will be greatly appreciated.

All who have cookies down on or around West Point Loma blvd. please call Mrs. Brewer at B-6083 or Mrs. Billups B-4837. You can leave them at either place and they will be called for but Red Cross is very limited in gasoline so Mrs. Brewer has been calling for them. Don't know what we would do without her.

Mrs. George Hart's Brownie troop No. 120 just brought in over 200 cookies. They hope to become Girl Scouts in about three weeks. A wonderful bunch of girls doing a wonderful work.

PERSONALS.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. T. Cihak, 1982 Chatsworth blvd., are the parents of a 10-pound baby girl, born Sunday afternoon, Oct. 8.

J. S. Knight of Los Angeles, district tax administrator for the State Board of Equalization for the counties of San Diego and Imperial, was in Ocean Beach Tuesday, conferring with Assemblyman Fred H. Kraft, and calling on friends.

Jane Arlo Jensen, Viola Hensel and Walter Timm attended the Southern California District Walther League convention held at Los Angeles Saturday and Sunday, representing Bethany Lutheran Walther League of Ocean Beach.

Leaving their mission field in Ambur, North Arcot district, India in June, and sailing from Bombay the Manns family came across on a Navy transport, being on the way 37 days. The Rev. Manns led an interesting discussion on the cults, customs and conditions of India on Sunday evening at the Bethany school. Monday noon the Manns family left by train for Cleveland, Ohio.

NEW ORDINANCE AGAINST "JAY-WALKING" NOW IN EFFECT, REPORTS POLICE

More attention to the prevention of possible accidents to pedestrians is now being taken by the city of San Diego, Sgt. R. J. Karrow of the Ocean Beach police station reported this week. He announces that the council recently passed a new and more stringent ordinance on the subject, which ordinance went into effect Sept. 30, and which reads as follows:

"When within the Central Traffic district or a business district, Santa Cruz ave., was not due to or on Pacific Highway between Harbor dr. and Rosecrans st., no pedestrian shall cross a road way other than by a crosswalk, pedestrian tunnel or overhead pedestrian crossing."

"Outside of the above named districts no pedestrian shall cross a roadway other than by a route at right angles to the curb, and when crossing, shall yield the right of way to all vehicles upon the roadway."

In the Ocean Beach area the business district where "jay-walking" is prohibited is on Newport ave. between Abbott and Cable st., and on Bacon st. between Santa Monica and Niagara ave., announces the sergeant.

Death of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. K. Hubbs, 4951 stranguation, the coroner's jury decided at the inquest held last week. Funeral of the 9-months-old boy, Martin H., was held Saturday forenoon and entombment was in Greenwood mausoleum. Left to mourn are his parents, and his grandparents, the latter four being Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Hubbs and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Overturf, all of San Diego.

WATCHING POLITICAL CROOKS IS BIG JOB

THE WAYS AND METHODS of political crooks and tricksters are many and varied. They have, at times, in the past and may again, in the future, nullify the verdict of the legally constituted electorate of the nation. These tricksters ply their trade in the metropolitan and industrial centers. They are unknown in rural communities, but the illegal votes they produce in the cities offsets the honest vote of the people of the towns and farms.

The extent to which the political crooks operate was demonstrated in Chicago in the national election of 1940. During that campaign a group of young business men, organized and led by Henry Pope Jr., and legally known as the Pope committee, volunteered to check, before the election, the voting lists in what are known in Chicago as the river wards. Largely they constitute the slum sections, a place of shacks and cheap lodging houses. They represent approximately 50 per cent of the normal city vote.

It was a non-partisan effort. Those young men were not interested in how any one registered intended to vote, only that they be legally qualified to vote. They investigated the name and assigned residence of every one on the voting lists. Many names were phony. Many places given as residences were vacant lots, warehouses or factory buildings. When they found a voter at the address he had given they determined how long he had lived there, how long in the precinct, in the county, in the state.

It was a terrifically big job. For some of the investigators it produced some unpleasant experiences, but they persevered. In those river wards they took off of the voting lists before the November election, the names of well over 100,000 who were not qualified to vote and were illegally registered.

If we are to have an honest expression of the will of a majority of those qualified to vote in this November election an effort, such as that of the Pope committee, is needed in every metropolitan and industrial center. The registration lists in such places will carry the names of many thousands of the unqualified. Some of these names will be on the lists because of ignorance on the part of the registrant, some because of the chicanery on the part of political crooks.

Since the election of 1940 there has been a great migration of workers throughout the nation. Hundreds of thousands, millions of them have moved to localities providing jobs in war plants. The majority of these people, men and women, have resided in one state, one county, one precinct long enough to qualify them as legal voters. Many thousands of them have not, and are not qualified voters. It is those who are unqualified, the drifters, the political crooks will attempt to place on the lists of registered voters. They are sufficient in numbers to swing a result in many a closely contested state, and possibly the national election.

To live, to function efficiently, the representatives composing a government "of, for and by the people," must be honestly chosen. May we have Pope committees in every metropolitan and industrial center.

EXAMPLE OF FREE ENTERPRISE IN ACTION
DURING WORLD WAR I, 1917-18, the government took over and operated the railroads. When it was all over congress appropriated a total of $1,700,000,000 to cover the loss of government operation.

During World War II railroad management has operated the roads and there has been no loss for the government to pay. During the first two years of this war the roads moved a third more freight, and nearly three times the number of troops, than were handled during the two years of World War I. Because of demands of the selective service law the roads have operated with less than 85 per cent of the number of employees used by the government in the operation of the roads during World War I. Instead of a loss to the government of nearly two billion dollars, the roads in two years paid to the government nearly two billion in taxes.

Despite such facts there is a group of theoretical bureaucrats at Washington who advocate scrapping the free enterprise system, and the government to take over and operate all business. They do not tell us where the money to make up the loss would come from.

IN HALF A CENTURY America has doubled, or more, the quantity of our food production. During the same period the farm manpower has been materially reduced. The tractor to replace the horse-drawn plow represents a big part of the story.

AMERICA WILL LIVE regardless of who may be the tenant in the White House after next January.

THE AMERICAN FARMER has provided his full part of the war supplies.

High-Styled Wool-Knit Apparel Is Capturing Everyone's Fancy

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

FOR greatest achievement in superb styling, in versatile interpretation, in chic and in charm, the fashion world should confer honors of high degree on the producers of knitted apparel. It's really amazing the way the knitted arts (both hand and loom) are entering into every phase of fashion from sports to formal evening clothes.

Never losing a "trick" in way of following up every possible fashion trend, creators of knitted apparel are interpreting the mode in all such newsworthy items as the knitted weskits which are "last word" fashion this fall, also the very new and smart lumber-jacket styles, likewise classic suits that are so superbly styled one wonders that such things can be actually achieved in knitted wear. Here they are, however, right before our very eyes, so breathtaking and so versatile that enthusiasm for wool-knits and things hand-knitted has mounted to a new high this season.

The weskits theme is taking the fashion world by storm. Shown to the left in the picture is a weskits done in a lacy knit fabric of wool and rayon. This English weskits is chic to the 'nth degree, and because these weskits are so practical and smart looking they are going over big with college and career girls. Gray is the chosen color for this swank weskits, for gray is the featured neutral for suits and sports fashions this year. Worn with fuchsia-colored gabardine slacks as is the model pictured, is one way of doing it, but worn with a tailored suit the effect is equally smart.

Centered in the illustration is a new lumber-jacket costume, a type of dress about which so much is being said and done this season. This two-piece is hand-loomed of 100 per cent wool yarn, which gives it an exclusiveness all its own. The lumberjack top is in the fashionable gold color worked with a green monogram, for to give a smart accent designers are monogramming most everything they can nowadays. The straight slim skirt is in a handsome dark brown. The knitted hat is in matching gold.

The navy one-piece dress (also very smart in black or a lush fall color) as shown to the right is one of those love-at-first-sight fashions that will create an urge to become the owner of one "just like it." Here is a glowing example of how fascinating the new wool-and-rayon lacy knit fabrics are. A knit fabric dress as here styled makes a wonderful basic type for colorful accessories, such as the hand-crocheted wool snood and bag done in vivid Mexican colors, which milady in the picture wears with it.

Small wonder is it that college and career girls are going all out for knitted things. Scarcely a phase of fashion but what is being interpreted in knitted or fabric-knit ways. A perfect charmer in way of an around-the-clock dress is the slender one-piece done in black jersey with sleeves in gaily colorful striped jersey.

Perhaps the most outstanding triumph in this season's wool-knits is the suits that are so superbly styled, as are also the newest hand-knit suits. If there is one knitted fashion that will capture your fashion more than another it is a suit of the patrician type as shown in the present fall collections. As produced these days a knitted suit refuses to wrinkle or lose its shape though you wear it day in and day out. Then you'll be wanting knitted coordinates that team a pullover, cardigan and a weskits that will carry you through fall and winter in a blaze of color. And believe it or not, you won't be able to resist a plaid-knit weskits. They're stunning!

Tailored Knit Suit

This promises to be a season of seasons for woolknit apparel. The handsome suit here pictured is an outstanding "reason why" enthusiasm is running highest ever over the new knitted fashions. This superbly styled tailored suit is just the sort that women of discriminating taste are regarding as the costume-ideal to wear about town and during the round of activities a day brings forth. Chenille monotone knit fabric of wool and rayon blend, in flight gray, makes this patrician two-piece suit. Silver buttons accent the jacket.

Furs and Feathers Lend Swank to Mode

Elegance in every detail is the keynote of fall and winter fashions. You sense this in new luxury furs, in revival of the handsome quality-kind costume suit with its lavishness of fur. The return of rich ostrich-trimmed hats is a sure sign of a new elegance. This year of gracious fashion sees also the black jacket frock enriched with jet embellishment on the jacket. Then too, even the simple little afternoon wools and jersey gowns indulge in dash of glitter or nailhead trim, or an intriguing bit of embroidery. As to the formal evening and dinner blouse, it is a thing of beauty with glitter accent and rich fabric and lavishness of embroidery. Evening wraps also give evidence of a trend to a new elegance. The story of their intriguing glitter trims and fur embellishments will unfold when the social season gets into full swing this winter.

Removal Contrast Sleeves

Smart style calls for contrasting sleeves. The girl who can sew is removing the sleeves of her last season's black frock, facing the armholes neatly so that the shoulder extends over. The idea is to make several pairs of sleeves that can be snapped or basted in so as to be easily removable. Bright striped jersey sleeves contrast a black gown stunningly. You can also tune your black frock to dine-and-dance occasion by sleeving it with colorful sheer that extends from shoulder to wrist. Embroider this with sequins or metal threadwork interspersed with bright-color stones or paillettes.

ONE OF THESE DAYS
MISSING: Schickelgruber, Adolf; 54, five feet 10; weighs 167; color: extra white. Last seen with both feet off ground looking for a secret airport from which to take off to a secret destination, but lacked secret running shoes. Once known as "Fuehrer" but now answers to the name of "Fido."

Wears funny mustache, has wild look in eyes, has passion for microphone and might be found in vicinity of amplifiers. Has illusions of grandeur; labors under impression he is Napoleon Bonaparte and always acts on hunches. Proof that he has just acted on a hunch is usually furnished by the fact he is eating rugs.

Is pasty faced and suffers from halitosis, double vision, battered chins, dandruff, hardening of the outlook, inflammation of the intelligence and bunions at base of spine due to recent travel on his posterior.

Formerly had a swastika engraved on left chest but recently had it transferred elsewhere. Large heads of Churchill, Stalin and Roosevelt tattooed on his right chest and can't understand how they got there. Across his back is inscription: "Available for paperhanging at old rates." Several scars on abdomen due to Patton operation.

Three toes on right foot missing; may have had them removed to conceal ancestry. All teeth missing except one on lower jaw which Axis failed to kick out through carelessness. Limp gives him the appearance of being crippled, but is due to fact he has been walking around in two left-footed shoes most of life without knowing it.

Is of highly nervous temperament; subject to fits of violence at mention of Yanks, RAF, etc., or renditions of "The Last Time I Saw Paris," "Russian Lullaby" and "God Save the King."

This man is wanted for trying to subjugate Europe, giving the planet its greatest headache, committing untold brutalities, being a general nuisance and trying to make a frankfurter, a loaf of pumpernickel and a plate of sauerkraut take the place of Magna Charta, the Statue of Liberty and the Ten Commandments.

Is nosy, irrational and altogether unpleasant. Boasted he would never remove military uniform until he had licked the world, but will probably be found in a costume no better than that of similar bums. Can dance a jig but there is hardly a chance he will care to now.

Is a vegetarian which explains that cauliflower odor.

Spent early years as a housepainter and paperhanger and may frequent stores selling short stepladders and new soaps for cleansing overalls.

This man may be traveling with others of his type, as many are known to be in similar flight. If they are traveling in one group their detection should be simple: they will be trying to alibi their flight to one another.

Liberal reward, dead or alive. Notify Moscow - London - Washington International Posse.

General Patton Up!
"Just chase the Heinies up a hill And knock 'em down another!"—That is the Patton recipe To save a lot of bother; Old "Blood and Guts" is in again—No more a doghouse doggie—He's slugging Nazis all around, And knocking Adolf groggy.

He isn't any diplomat, His manner isn't tender; He goes into a battle like A wildman on a bender; He's fussy over leggings and shoes; He can't stand neckties shoddy; But when he tackles Adolf—wow! The cry is, "Where's the body?"

He's not the dinner-party type, He says it not with flowers; He gets so violent at times They send him to the showers; His manner is obstreperous, His talk is even louder But he can toss those overalls In Mrs. Murphy's chowder!

He's not the soothing, restful sort, His language could be finer; He is an awful pal inside A shop chock-full of "chiner"; But he can pitch and field and hit—The toughest spots he weathers—So let us merely wink an eye And watch the flying feathers!

Returns Indicate General Had Had Some Mouthful!

A story, over which many servicemen are chuckling, is going the rounds. It concerns a certain American general who had some teeth extracted recently. Next day, to his mortification, he learned that the lost molars were being sold as souvenirs at any offer above $1 per tooth.

Determined to stop this, he sent out his aides with instructions to buy all these grisly—and very personal—mementoes they found on offer and so keep them from the public.

By evening they had all returned with their purchases. Total bag—37 teeth!
